

The forced use of the "Broadcast Flag" is another attempt by the media industry to control the fair use of content, limiting we the people's ability to use said content in ways we want within the usage laws currently provided for by existing copyright laws.